

Lincoln-Way Outgrown

On Honor Roll At Orland Park Grade School

Following is a list of students in the 6th, 7th, and 8th grades in the Orland Park grade school who are on the honor roll for the first quarter grading period of the upper departmentalized students:

Patricia Jaeger received high honors with all "A's".

The following had a "B" average in all academic subjects: Reva Coan, Diane Bender, John Hutchinson, Ella Loebe, Nancy Loebe, Jon Snyder, Susan Steinfatt, Richard Vosika, Elaine Yunker, Terry Young, John Taylor, Barbara Schmaedeke, Christine Helgeson, Jerry Zinn, Betty Uthe, and Kathy Doogan.

Physical education, music and art are special subjects and are not used in computing eligibility for the honor roll.

Grades in these special subjects must not fall below a "C".

To be eligible for the honor roll there cannot be a "D", "E", or "U" in any subject.

High School Board to Ask Voters for O.K. On Building Bond Issue

The population growth in the area which poses a serious problem to most school districts now confronts the Lincoln-Way high school board.

The board now finds itself in the position of again coming to the voters of the district to ask approval of a bond issue that it may increase the present school plant to meet the constantly growing enrollment.

At its last regular meeting the board adjourned until tonight when it expects to complete arrangements for a referendum. Tentative plans call for Dec. 20 as the date and amount of the bond issue is expected to be $500,000.

The architects, Child and Smith, estimate that a new wing can be built for $500,000 or possibly less. The wing will extend across the rear of the present plant from the addition on the east to the auditorium and will give the school accommodations for 850 to 900 students.

The present enrollment is 671 and next fall is expected to reach 750, according to Supt. A. Hunter Chapman. When the school was opened in Sept., 1954, there were 232 students. It was designed to accommodate 600 pupils by 1960, but some of the building was held up at the beginning. The east wing was finished last year and the present enrollment is already greater than the 600 for which it was intended.

If the present rate of increase is maintained, Supt. Chapman said, the enrollment will reach 2,000 by 1970.

The physical education facilities are particularly crowded at this time, the superintendent said, and so is the music department. There is also need for an all-purpose room which could be used as a study hall for most periods and as an auxiliary lunch room for those students who bring their own lunches.

Additional classrooms also are needed and additional space is necessary for shop courses.

Supt. Chapman outlined the schools needs at a recent meeting of the Parent-Teachers Group and Albert H. Krusemark, Jr., president of the board also spoke and asked the members to support the board in the coming referendum and to cooperate in getting the information to the

The three churches have cooperated in this union service for many years but this is perhaps the first time it has been conducted in the Green Garden church.

Urge Parents Attend Baseball Meeting In School Tonight

The number of parents who attended the meeting to set up a baseball program in Mokena next summer was very disappointing.

Therefore, another meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Carpenter st. public school tonight.

It is necessary that this program be set up now so as to be organized when ready due to the large number of boys who desire to play baseball.

It will be necessary to have parent support and participation in the program if it is to be successful. The committee urges all parents whose boys are eligible for baseball teams to attend the meeting.

Lilly McGrath, 69, Of Lincoln Estates Dies on Nov. 10

Funeral services for Mrs. Lilly McGrath, 69, who died Nov. 10 in St. James hospital, were held in Chicago.

Mrs. McGrath was an early resident of Lincoln Estates and was greatly respected in the community. She was preceded in death by her husband.

public.

The Lincoln-Way campus is of sufficient size to accommodate additional units when the need arises and probably would be utilized as it was chosen in the first place because of its central location in the district.

Mokena Lions Launch Annual Fruit Cake Sale

Mokena Lions today began their annual sale of fruit cakes. Members have been assigned to teams and will begin a house-to-house canvass today. They figure to end the campaign next Wednesday, the day before Thanksgiving.

Proceeds from the sale will be used for civic and charitable activities sponsored by the Lions. Half of the money will be given to Mokena Community park and the other half will be distributed to the Hadley school for the blind, the school for retarded children, sight conservation projects and other programs in which the club is interested.

The cakes are three pounds in size and those who have sampled them say they are excellent eating. Those in charge point out that besides serving one's own table these cakes make good gifts for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The committee in charge of the sale is comprised of James Surovick, Charles Swaaberg, John Hansen and Elias Brown.

The membership has been divided into eight teams. Assigned as team captain are, Surovick, Hansen, Loren Collins, Jerry Nelson, John Williamson, William Geisler, William Muehler and Maurice Angland.

The men here comprise the committee that will be in charge of the campaign to collect money to build an engine house on Front st., near Midland ave. A community affair the department serves the entire Mokena area without charge. It is estimated that the engine house will cost $18,000 and it is needed if the department is to store all of its equipment. A tanker must be drained after each time it is used now because it must be parked outside. Members of the committee, left to right, are: (front row) Mayor James Marti, Walter Muehler, chairman; Martin Medema; (rear row) Stanley Williams, Fred Rouch, Jr. and Ray Bernard. Fund Drive Aids Trinity School

This is Handicapped Children's Week and in conjunction with it the parents group of Trinity school for mentally retarded children in Joliet, will conduct a house to house canvass for funds in Mokena tonight.

Assisting in the drive for funds will be members of the Tinley Teen club under the jurisdiction of Andy Zink, director.

The group will start from St. Mary's hall at 7 p.m. and 12 mothers, each accompanied by two teenagers, will make the calls. When the drive is completed, they will return to St. Mary's hall. The drive is under the chairmanship of Mrs. George Bernard and Andy Zink.

All of the money donated will be used to operate the school, which is financed only by parents and others interested in the program. The school receives no state aid. Children from Mokena, Plainfield, Joliet, and other surrounding areas attend the school.

At a recent card party held by the parents group, a total of $1755 was derived to aid the school.

Programs for all handicapped children are not available in public schools. Private schools, operated by parents, is the only way many handicapped, especially the mentally handicapped can receive special education.

Progress however is being made in the field of handicapped children.

The last session of the Illinois Legislature has made possible the setting up of inter-district legal agreement for the operation of a handicapped program on a cooperative basis. Legislation was also passed requiring school districts to conduct an annual census to determine the number of children in need of special educational service.

The cooperative program between school districts is operating successfully in other areas.

School districts in Tinley Park, Country Club Hills, Palos Heights, Forest Ridge, Midlothian, Markham, and Arbor Park, are presently considering the establishment of such a program.

In a cooperative program, schools establish classes for different types of handicapped on an exchange basis, each district paying a pro rata share of the cost of the program.

State aid is obtained by an amount of $3,000 a year for each employee who teaches or works with the handicapped.

Mokena CD to Have Public Meeting Monday

A meeting to acquaint the general public with the dangers of radio active fallout in the event of an enemy bombing attack and methods used in combating them, is to be held Monday night, Nov. 24, in the Carpenter street school at Mokena. The meeting is to begin at 7 o'clock.

The meeting has been arranged by the Mokena civil defense unit, headed by Anthony Dina. The meeting is for youngsters of high school age as well as adults, Mr. Dina said.

The Mokena CD unit has been getting instruction in the use of instruments designed to detect and measure radio active fallout.

One of the speakers Monday will be Kenneth Okolowitz, section leader of area monitoring group in industrial hygiene and safety division of Argonne National Laboratory. He is to bring a piece of cobalt, described as "60 force of 30 millicuries in size," to use in demonstrating his talk.

Also on the program will be a demonstration by a Joliet squadron on ground rescue work. This part of the program will be directed by an officer from O'Hare Field.

Plan Dedication Of Orland Park School Addition

Plans for an open house and dedication of the new addition to the Orland Park elementary school are being made by the school board and the PTA, and Dec. 7 is the tentative date for the affair.

Dec. 7 is on a Sunday and the program is scheduled to begin at 3 o'clock.

The new addition, which was put into use this fall, had its beginning last year when the board asked the people to approve a bond issue of $200,000 to construct the building. The people approved the issue by a wide margin and work was begun as soon as the weather permitted.

All persons in the area are invited to attend the open house and view the school.

Early Deadline For Thanksgiving

Because publication day next week falls on Thanksgiving day, we will publish one day earlier. There fore ads and news regularly picked up on Monday will be gathered tomorrow Friday, Nov. 21, thus making Friday, Monday for us.

Burglars Active

Report Two Break-ins at Mokena

Burglars were active at Mokena last weekend. There was a break in at the Mokena Oil company office on Main st. and entry also was gained to the oil station operated by Jerry Nelson on Wolf road.

The thieves made off with 41 white wall tires and 1,620 Champion spark plugs and other items from the Mokena Oil company worth about $2,400 and got $145 in cash at Nelson's station.

This is the second time thieves have broken into the Mokena Oil office this year. The same pattern was followed both times. The fence surrounding the property was cut and rolled back to allow the thieves to drive in a truck. A hole was battered in the door.

Since the previous burglary special locks had been placed on the door that presented the thieves with a problem but they solved it by taking off the door.

The break-in may have taken place either Saturday or Sunday night. No member of the firm came to the place after leaving at 6:30 Saturday night until Monday morning. Besides the sparkplugs and tires the burglars carried off 66 inner tubes, a battery tester, and 96 flashlight batteries.

The burglars who entered the Nelson Oil station apparently knew their way about, according to Mokena Police Chief James Smetana. They found the keys for the cash register and two vending machines and looted all three

Two of the three persons who are alleged to have broken into Lincoln-Way high school Oct. 25 have been apprehended. They were arrested in DuPage county and turned over to U. S. Naval authorities for alleged infractions of navy rules.

The third person is at large. The two held by the navy are James C. Burns and Ronald Butler. Neither are from this area. Warrants charging them with burglary were issued by Justice of the Peace Anthony Mackay at Joliet and sent to the DuPage county seat at Wheaton for service by the Will County sheriff's office. DuPage authorities returned the warrant to Will county after the pair was surrendered to the navy.

Silver Cross Hospital

Hospital Completes New Wing

It is a far cry to view Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, from when the first building was erected in 1895 to today with the several additions that have been added.

To see these additions, and especially the latest, which was shown to the public at open house last Sunday, is to know this area is well equipped, with the latest advances in medical technology, to ease suffering and save lives.

A preview was held last Friday when the hospital, thru Paul W. Kempe, administrator, entertained members of the area press at luncheon and a leisurely tour thru the first part of the new two million dollar expansion and modernization program—the new diagnostic and treatment wing costing $675,000. There remains to be completed the wings which will provide 91 extra beds.

Entering the new wing from the east wall of the waiting room, is a large and pleasant reception room where entering patients must be at ease.

In the new wing are: the blood bank which now can accept blood donations daily from 8 a.m. to noon including Saturdays and 4 to 6 or 7 p.m. by appointment; a wonderful general laboratory department, air conditioned, which makes possible analysis of various types. Dr. B. H. Niemann, pathologist, heads this department.

There are five examining rooms; an x-ray machine where every patient is given a routine chest x-ray if the patient has not had such within the past six months; a complete central purchasing and stock room where an inventory is kept up to schedule, and the room where steam is kept active all year around, changing from steam heating in the winter to air conditioning in summer, simply by a turn of a switch.

CARL SANDBURG HIGH SCHOOL's new look is illustrated in this architect's drawing of the new addition that will be built if the voters approve a proposed bond issue at a special election to be held Dec. 6. The school now has a population of almost 1,200 and this number is expected to be 1,500 next September, and 1,500 is the capacity of the present plant. The proposed addition will make it possible for the school to accommodate 2,000 students. The new addition will be built in wings, leaving a court or patio in the center. Ganster and Hennighausen are the architects.

Beware the Pitchman!

Inflation, which has been plaguing our economy for a long time, has spread to the pitchmen. The two-bit grifter has practically disappeared from the scene.

He was a gyp, of course, and you knew it but didn't mind so much because the amount of cash involved was small. You might pay a quarter for a spot remover that didn't; half a dollar for a mechanical dancing doll that wouldn't or 75 cents or a buck for a gimmick that in the hands of the vender—but not the buyer—would slice, cut and practically engrave vegetables and fruits in a marvelous manner.

Or you might fall for some preparation that would reduce gasoline consumption in your car, soothe chapped hands or a tired and aching back.

There is some of the sucker in most of us but as long as the pecuniary loss was negligible few blew the whistle on pitchmen. To hear and watch a good sidewalk pitch was worth the quarter or dollar that it cost one and if you didn't want to admit having been taken one could always charge the loss against entertainment.

But today the pitchmen have expanded. Inflation has them. That quarter and dollar stuff is out. The minimum now is a five spot and some of their top scores would rate well with the take of out-and-out con-men.

The pitchman, like others who want to be up and coming, now makes use of all modern means to spread his message, including the telephone and the visit in person to your home.

He has not only pushed the price up on the small things but those specializing in the larger deal in fanciful figures. If one doesn't close his ears to their persuasive talk he may wind up with a complete remodeling job of his home, with new siding, new combination screen and storm windows, new paint, a food locker, a contract to keep said locker filled for the next 20 years, and an ironclad contract for a year of instruction on a combination ukelele and zither, plus purchase of the instrument.

Then on top of it all one may find that the figure given in the agreement he has signed are several times greater than the ones quoted by the slick-talking pitchman.

Better business bureaus and police authorities are constantly urging the public to beware of these glib-tongued characters and advise people who plan an outlay of capital for improvements or furnishings to deal only with known and reputable firms or individuals.

On Second Thot

by
GLENN F. LOGAN

The boom-boom days are here again! The hunting season has arrived, an anxious period indeed, for farm dwellers and hardy suburbanites whose freeholds are on the edge of the settlements.

In early times when settlers first appeared in these parts an occasional fort or block-house was to be found where shelter could be had against marauding bands of Indians if the need arose.

There were several occasions when alarms sent settlers flying to the forts but fortunately they were without foundation for the most part and the people in this area were not in real danger. They did, however, acquire a knack of packing and moving quickly.

As a matter of fact today's farmers run more chance of being bagged by hunters than their pioneer counterparts did in being potted by the wily redskin.

And it might be a good idea to have some forts today where the country dwellers could take refuge during the hunting season.

Not only does the farmer and his family need protection but his livestock, poultry and even his dogs and cats are in danger.

Come duck and pheasant season and a stream of men and boys come streaming out from towns and cities to try their lack of skill.

Most of them have little knowledge of guns and still less of the quarry they seek, and are entirely devoid of respect for property rights. They invade fields clearly posted against hunting or trespassing and a landowner who tries to stop them is lucky if he isn't clobbered or shot at.

Give him a choice between repelling hunters or hostile Indians and most farmers with hunter trouble would choose the Indians with an assortment of Mau-Mau thrown in for good measure.

Most of the hunters today in this region get out with a gun once a year. They leave home with the firm idea of shooting a pheasant, duck or something.

After hours of tramping around they are ready to settle for anything. The birds have sent out the word that the suckers are coming and to put Plan Z into effect. This strategy calls for relays of old cock pheasants to rise out in front of the hunters but out of range. While the hunters are emptying their guns at these flitting targets, another group of pheasants come whirling up behind them.

The hunters whirl and fire. After several repetitions of this maneuver comes the play toward which the birds have been building. A couple of pheasants pop up to the right of the line of hunters, practically from under their feet, and streak off to the left. At the same moment a couple of birds rise at the left and zoom to the right.

This maneuver is called Bagging the Hunter and is frequently quite successful. Inexperienced hunters, excited by the birds that now you see now you don't see, start shooting in every direction and while they don't get any pheasants they occasionally shoot each other.

This is sport for the birds and is also beneficial to the farmer. If hunters exhaust their ammunition or bag a companion they generally call it a day and go home, and the nearby farmer or suburbanite who live at the edge of villages get a reprieve.

Their greatest danger comes from hunters who have not had an opportunity to shoot at anything. Determined to have something to show for their time and outlay of money for gun, tags and ammunition they blaze away at anything moving.

And if there isn't anything moving they shoot at what is standing still.

There are no available statistics but it is believed that the city nags, bag more cows, chickens, farmyard ducks and geese, sheep, hogs, and dogs and cats, than they do pheasants.

They rattle shot against the sides of homes, shoot out windows and now and then wing a woman, man or child.

The solution, it appears, would be to set up game preserves where hunters would have only themselves or game to shoot at.

Anyway, it's a thot.

CRITICIZES N.L. POLICE

Sir: I am thoroly disgusted with our police protection in New Lenox. This is in regard to the incident that happened last Thursday. The police were notified of a burglar. So the officer and two other men with him surrounded the house, and the suspect was still able to slip out and run on foot several blocks and stay in hiding. The police were told of the exact block he was last seen, and all they did was drive thru the alley in the squad car. After hiding for two hours, the suspect ran two more blocks across the busiest section of town, got in his car parked near the train depot and drove away. Not one of our so-called brave men had enough nerve to get out and really search the neighborhood where he was last seen. This all happened in broad daylight, in the middle of the afternoon.

Within an hour after the burglar was first seen, the whole town was scared silly with a story too fantastic to print. Then my small son looked at me and said, "But the police will catch him, he'll protect us, won't he?" And I find myself at a loss to explain to him the sorry truth. If we as parents have so little faith in our police officers, how can we instill a sense of security within our children?

I am not in position to make any changes, but there are citizens who could, or are they so well satisfied that it never occurred to them to take action?

A provoked citizen.

Sir: Although fate of the $248,000 state building bond issue remains in doubt, the exceptional newspaper coverage in its behalf can have important, far-reaching benefits. This coverage, both editorial and through informative articles, contributed tremendously to the growth of enlightened public interest in state welfare services, objectives and needs.

We are deeply grateful to the Semmler newspapers for its vital contribution in this connection, and are determined to give tangible evidence of our gratitude in the form of constantly improving state welfare services.

Toward this end we solicit your continuing interest and support. It is our prayerful hope that the interest already developed will be constantly nurtured until it becomes the sustained, informed public action so vital to solution of all public health and welfare problems.

Please be assured of our gratitude and cooperation.

Cook Co. Wins Legal Battle to Block Trailer Court Near Blue Is.

(CNS) — Cook county has won its legal fight to prevent construction of a house trailer camp at 123rd and Homan near Blue Island.

The appellate court has reversed Superior Court Judge Donald S. McKinlay's ruling directing William J. Mortimer, county building superintendent, to issue the necessary permits to Walter Rogers, Inc., the developer.

Judge McKinlay issued a writ of mandamus in the year old legal battle last December. However, the permits allowing the construction were not issued pending the county's appeal to the appellate court.

"The writ of mandamus will be awarded only in cases where the petitioner shows a clear right to the writ and a clear negligence of duty on the part of the defendant to perform the act sought to be enforced. In such a case as this, before the writ will issue the petitioner must show a compliance with all the valid requirements of the ordinance," the appellate court's six page opinion read in part.

"The court will not order a writ in doubtful cases," the opinion said.

The lawsuit, filed in August, 1957, by Attorney Paul N. Smith Jr., said the company purchased the property, zoned for heavy industrial use, in October, 1956. The company has an investment exceeding $150,000 with $33,820 already paid out, the suit said.

The county board in July, 1957, directed Mortimer not to issue a permit in this case, the suit said. The company applied for one July 29 but didn't get it, the suit said.

The county commissioners at the time pointed out that proposed zoning amendments, since adopted, classify a trailer park as a "special use." This means it will not be a permitted use in any district but may be established only after approval is given by the county board following a public hearing by the county zoning board.

Refusal to issue a permit in this case was labeled "harsh, oppressive, discriminatory, and confiscatory" by the suit.

Chase Daylight Burglar at New Lenox

A daylight burglar fled empty handed from the John Francis home on Haven ave., New Lenox last Thursday when police arrived at the scene within minutes after he had entered the house.

A neighbor saw the man, described as a tall, slim negro, enter the Francis home about 12:30 Thursday noon. No one was at home at the time.

Word was taken to Chief of Police George Kennedy, who was directing traffic at Oakview school. Kennedy picked up two men, Don Wennlund, a former member of the village board and Carl Jacobmeyer, a member of the village police department but who was not on duty at the time.

Neither of his aides were armed so Kennedy stationed them at the front of the house while he went to the rear, thinking the intruder would go out the back as he had entered from there. Instead the man went out the front, eluded the two men there and quickly outdistanced them.

Police drove back and forth in the area but failed to flush the fugitive. Later a witness informed them that the man ran across U. S. 30 and thru the Schroeder oil station at Cedar road toward the parking lot at the Rock Island depot.

It was believed that he had a car parked there but no one has reported having seen him enter one or drive away.

Church Group Has Party for Patients At State Hospital

The Altar and Rosary society of St. George church, Tinley Park, headed by Mrs. Peter Ellement held a ward thanksgiving party in the Tinley Park State hospital last night. Office hours are 9 to 5 daily and 9 to 12 noon on Saturday.

This is one of a series of parties that will be given for the patients by various area groups.

There were 16 women at the party Wednesday who prepared light refreshments for the patients, including dietetic foods. They also presented a program of entertainment for the patients.

Mrs. Alma Young, volunteer service supervisor, handles all of the arrangements for these affairs.

Proceeds will be applied on the debt on the school and church buildings.

Carelessness Can Cost Hand, Farmers Told

With corn picking still in progress in many parts of the state, O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, urges picker operators to stay alert to danger and get thru the season safely.

"Stop the picker." Farmers have heard this advice many times before. But it must be repeated again and again until it becomes second nature to every operator, it was pointed out. Observe this simple rule, farmers are told, even when they leave the tractor to get a drink of water.

"You can't lose your arm or finger or hand in a corn picker if you always stop the machine," a safety expert said. "We haven't found a corn picker yet that can tell the difference between an ear of corn and a hand."

Other safety measures to follow include not working when over-tired and not wearing loose or floppy clothing that may become entangled in moving machinery. Every tractor needs a fire extinguisher. And a metal sediment bowl is safer than a glass one.

Suburban Transit Wages Fight to Serve Orland Park With Bus Line

(CNS)—The Suburban Transit System is before the Illinois commerce commission again in an effort to initiate bus service between Orland Park and Chicago's Loop.

This time the company asks authority to operate on a permanent rather than temporary basis. Too much opposition to the petition seeking temporary operating authority was given by company officials as the reason for the change.

ICC permission to operate three round trips daily between Orland Park, Palos Park, Palos Heights, Worth, Chicago Ridge, Oak Lawn, Cicero, and Chicago was sought Monday during one of two hearings in Chicago.

The second hearing involved Suburban Transit System's petition seeking to suspend service over a portion of another route. This operation starts at 11th st. and Roberts rd. it runs north on Roberts rd. to 79th st., east to Harlem ave., north to 63rd st., and west to Archer ave.

The bus line seeks to retain only the portion of the route along Roberts rd. between 95th and 11th sts.

This operation carries between 30 and 40 persons daily on two round trips, said the bus line's attorney, C. A. Caplow. He said the line lost $400 on the operation in January.

No objectors appeared at this hearing before ICC Examiner Harold Poslusny who will submit a report of the evidence to the full commission. However, objections were voiced at the hearing involving the proposed Orland Park to Chicago operation.

Eagle Bus Lines, which operates to the race track at 35th st. and Cicero ave., doesn't want Suburban Transit to carry persons between the track and the Greyhound terminal in the Loop.

Eagle charges $1.25 a ride from the Sherman hotel in the Loop to Hawthorne and Sportsman's Park race tracks. Albert Meserow, Eagle's attorney, said that under the proposed route Suburban Transit would offer the same ride for 65 cents.

Eagle voiced the same objection when Suburban Transit petitioned for a temporary operating certificate which allows a 60-day operation. Meserow asked that Suburban Transit be ordered to "keep its doors closed one mile north and south of the track."

The bus line proposes to operate three round trips daily from 143rd st. and West ave. in Roberts rd., 135th st., Harlem ave., 111th st., Ridgeland ave., 95th st., and Cicero ave. thru to the Loop.

It proposes to do no local service between the Loop and the intersection of 87th st. and Cicero other than to discharge northbound passengers riding from the suburbs and pick up southbound passengers going to the suburbs.

Caplow denied a charge by Meserow that Suburban Transit plans to put a sign on its buses reading "To Race Track."

Caplow said that residents of south suburban municipalities have asked for the direct bus service to the Loop.

During hearings before the ICC last May, suburban and Chicago housewives told the state commission that Suburban Transit's proposed route is greatly needed in their communities.

A one way cash fare from Orland Park to Chicago would cost 85 cents, a ten ride ticket between the two points would cost $7.50 and a monthly ticket good for 54 rides would cost $35, according to William Biggers, general manager of the bus line.

Another hearing in the case is scheduled for Nov. 25 when Attorney Louis Gentili will testify on behalf of Bluebird Coach Lines. This line, which opposed the petition seeking a temporary operating certificate, does not oppose the second petition. Caplow quoted Gentili as saying.

Raymond Pieper, village attorney for Orland Park, has been representing that municipality at the hearings.

New Mercurys On Display at Miller Sales

A brilliant combination of interior spaciousness for passenger comfort, mechanical excellence, advanced design and superior performance and economy is presented by Mercury in its totally new cars for 1959—Mercury's 20th anniversary models. The new models are on display at the Bob Miller Sales on 143rd st., Orland Park.

"This new Mercury is the only medium-priced car designed specifically and exclusively for the medium-priced field — every other medium priced car for 1959 shares its body shell with a low-priced car make," said Ben D. Mills, general manager of the M-E-L Division and a vice president of Ford Motor Company.

"The Mercury for 1959 is a big car—it has size for a purpose — its space-planned bodies provide a totally new experience in passenger comfort in both front and back seats," Mr. Mills declared. "And that's for three people in both seats," he emphasized.

The entire front seat and instrument panel area are redesigned to make it spacious. Major engineering developments result in cutting almost in half the volume of space taken up by the transmission tunnel hump down the center of the car. This reduction of the tunnel gives Mercury another industry "first" in passenger comfort by greatly increasing leg room for those sitting in the middle of the front seat and by improving cushioning in both front and rear seats.

The instrument panel is moved well forward, providing six inches more knee-room and ten inches more distance from the seat back.

Vision is improved both by lowering the hood 2 1/2 inches and by the huge, compound windshield which is more than 60 percent larger than previous models.

Mercury is introducing windshield wipers which operate in tandem, both blades going in the same directional sweep at the same time, thus giving full-width cleaning with no center blind spot. Wipers are electrically operated.

For maximum economy, Mercury's engines include a 312-cubic inch displacement V-8 with two-barrel carburetor in the Monterey series. It saves both on initial cost and by operating on regular grade gasoline.

Put candles in the refrigerator about 24 hours before using them. This reduces dripping and keeps candles from burning down so fast.

Methodists Unbeaten In Church League Inches and Pounds-the Keynote

Fans Attracted by Exciting Play In Tinley Park Church Basketball

The Tinley Park Methodist continued their winning ways with a final period blitz against the Nazarenes in the Tinley Park Church League last night at the Central grade school, 58-35.

In its second year of existence, the church loop is attracting many more fans in the early season than it did last year. "Closely contested games is, no doubt, the reason," suggested Ken Webster, league prexy.

The score was no real indication of the contest. With just six minutes to go, the Methodist lead was only 37-32 and the Nazarenes had led thru most of the first half. However, when captain and star of the Nazarenes, Don King, fouled out, the Methodist broke the game wide.

Control of the backboards was the keynote of the game. For three quarters the much smaller Nazarene team dominated the rebounding, but with the absence of King there didn't seem to be enough left as the Methodist pounded out a 23-6 margin in the final period of play.

Wes Landau and Elmer Ginther, two of the tallest men in the league, led the Methodist attack with 17 and 16 points respectively. Of their 33 total, they scored half of them in the final period.

A devastating fast break with Ginther and Landau on the receiving end proved the deciding force in the final few minutes. Both Methodists looked fine on tip-ins and close-up shots.

This was the third straight win for the Methodist and settles them in first place in the church loop.

Bob Culp was high for the losing Nazarenes with 10 points.

Trinity Lutheran broke into the win column with a victory over Zion Lutheran by a close margin of, 43-40.

Both teams fought to a 14-14 draw in the first quarter and then Trinity built up a lead of 21-17 for the first half. The third quarter went to Zion 14-7 and then Trinity took their turn and beat the villagers, 43-40.

The battle was close and crisp as Trinity Lutheran looked much better than it did in the season's opener against the Methodist.

Tom Propp of Zion and Ed Bormet of Trinity led the scorers with 14 points apiece. Walley Eggert of Zion ran a close second with 13.

Certainly the league is beginning to tighten. The Methodist looked good, but had plenty of competition last night. Zion and Trinity Lutheran are very evenly matched.

Last Thursday the Nazarenes defeated Zion Lutheran in overtime 39-32 in the evening lidlifter. Tied 30-all, the church league standings

Methodist	W	L
St. George	3	0
Trinity Lutheran	1	1
Nazarene	1	1
Zion Lutheran	0	2

Nazarenes scored almost as many in the three minutes overtime as they had in any full 8-minute quarter.

The Methodist took its second straight contest by a 46-44 score over St. George. This contest saw the Catholics close fast to overcome a large deficit in the final few minutes.

Methodist led at the end of the third quarter, 39-27. However, St. George rolled over the Webster reserves, 17-7 in the final heat, almost enough to pull the upset of the year.

Wes Landau and Elmer Ginther were again high with 17 and 14 points—in that order. Ron Gallina caged 13 for St. George.

Trailing thru most of the contest the Nazarenes managed a tie at the end of regulation game. Bob Culp, guard, sparked the 9 point surge in overtime with 6 of the 9 points the Nazarenes counted against Zion.

Tom Propp of Zion Lutheran and Rev. Dallas Mucci shared scoring honors with 15. Eggert was second with 11 for Zion Lutheran.

The commanding factor in the league is the Methodist height. The Methodist has met everyone, but Zion Lutheran. Zion has been conquered by two opponents that the Methodist has disposed of rather handily. Wes Landau at 6'5" and Elmer Ginther at 6'3" are also fine shots. They have sparked the Methodist shooting attack as well as contributing the lion's share of rebounding.

However, the league will get better. Other teams have more youth than the Methodist and stand to improve more. The race which seems to be over might still be a blisterer.

Bremen Defends SW League Title; Coach to Concentrate on Building

"Building . . . Building . . . Building . . ." was the important comment of Coach Bill Brown of the Bremen Braves. Sort of like an O'Henry beginning or ending — meaning plenty or signifying little in relations to the Braves basketball future for 1958-59.

"I have more height than I've ever had at Bremen, but this is a building year. Maybe, next year we will be ready again to challenge for the conference crown," explained the poised Braves mentor.

"However, we might have a real chance this year. But this we will find out after a few contests. We could look average at the season's beginning and wind up in a blaze. You see, we will be building. How soon we are a challenger will depend upon the development of our present men. I expect that it is a few games away — the boys haven't too much experience," concluded Brown.

Bremen opens its current basketball season at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday at the home gym in Midlothian with Argo, South Suburban League member, as the opposition. Argo has been a weak sister in this conference and may or may not give a clue to Bremen's chances for this year.

Brown is moving into action with last year's handymen. Set at four varsity positions will be James Mannaoni at five foot ten senior at one of the guard positions. Jerome Randle, a junior will probably flank Mannaoni at the other outside position. James Mifflin, six-foot four junior, will jump center for the Brownmen. Bob Rodger will start at the forward position — Rodger is six-foot three.

The other forward position is a wide open battle. In fact, it might well remain such over the season. James Randolph and John Przbysla, both at six feet and four inches, might round out the basketball squad. However, Dennis Tattum, star footballer, and Bill Hoffman cannot be counted out of the battle at this time.

Bill Wilke and Guy Cieland are the final section of the top ten men that Brown plans to use. Bremen will dress 15 players for each contest.

Coach Brown spoke highly of a sophomore from Tinley Park, John Ragsdale. John doesn't seem to appear in the 1958-59 varsity picture at this time.

The conference schedule will begin on Friday, Dec. 5, with Lincoln-Way High at New Lenox. Thornton Fractional is the other non-league game before December.

Browsing Through The Cold Stove League

Many are awaiting the All-State football selections to place the Bremen senior, Dennis Tattum, somewhere on the squad. Just last week Tattum was named to the SW Suburban All League outfit. A writer in the Chicago Heights Star compared Bremen's three yard man with Elliott of Bloom and Jackson of Thornton Twp. and decided that Dennis had more to offer a college. Certainly, if Tattum was charging behind such a line as Rich's, one wonders if his average per carry would not be something like 9 or 10.

In the Rich-Bremen contest it became obvious that Tattum could gain without a terrific line in front of him — and against a very good line. Dennis is probably the most exciting individual performer in the SW Suburban league this season.

Tony Bettenhausen, big car race driver, has won a second national racing crown. Interesting sidelight to the victory — is this—Tony did not come in first in a single contest thruout the season. We will run a short series on Bettenhausen and achievements of this past year in the next few issues of the Semmler papers. Watch for it.

Bremen high school will feature an addition to the athletic program this year — swimming.

Carl Sandburg high school might be one of the basketball powers in the SW Suburban this year. Rich will be tougher than last year. Bremen is an unknown entity — after the loss of last season's championship team by graduation.

The Methodists look very much like the team to beat in the Tinley Park Church League Basketball this season. Three straight, convincing, victories make the other teams feel a little like the Chicago Whitesox.

The Chicago Blackhawks, hockey team, is currently running in third place in the National Hockey League. This is very high for a Hawks team, of recent years.

Bowling has certainly caught on as one of the major past times in America today. Something like 12 or 15 leagues are operating in our sector of the Cook and Will counties. Scores are particularly good in some of the leagues, considering that the participants are amateurs. More actual participation in the athletic activities of our country are quite good. Bowling is a sport where the family can also participate—and is to a large degree.

Quarterback Ken Young, of Valparaiso University junior letterman from Orland Park, Ill., was named Back of the Week for the third time this season.

Young set a new school scoring record with a 58-yard return of a pass interception for one score and ran 12 yards on a roll-out option for another. The big junior, 6-3 and 205 pounds, was also the best rusher for the day, picking up 93 yards in 10 carries.

The Tinley Park Lions club is laying the ground work for a public swimming pool for its community.

Tinley Park Recreation Commission has committed itself to install lights for the softball diamonds in Memorial Park for next year.

Dale Hartwig, former Bremen high school basketball star, is among the top fifteen frosh at the University of Illinois.

Not so many right and a lower percentage wrong. Just a jot and a whistle; and a ride on the inside thistle. Cheerio!

Just what the citizens of Tinley Park have been feeding their children since last October isn't the concern of Mr. William Kostecki and Mr. Ken Webster, coaches of the basketball teams of Central school. However, these men are interested in the results. The results have been excellent and the school expects to dress two teams much larger than last year. Possibly it was wheat germ or abundivida that has added the inches and pounds to the Central basketballers.

Bill Kostecki, lightweight coach, enthused, "This is the biggest team that I've ever coached here in Tinley Park. Kostecki has coached at the Central School for five years. Webster was added last year to coach the heavyweights.

Height and weight go a long way toward a winning basketball team. Maybe, this is the year when the height and weight additions to the lightweight team might mean a championship for Kostecki's lightweights. Last season the lightweights finished fourth in a six-team league.

Inexperience appears to be the ghost of haunting proportions for the lightweight mentor. Not one man, of the five, expected to answer the buzzer for the first game, held a regular berth on last year's team. Only two of the players appeared often as reserves.

Kostecki remains optimistic on the assumption that the addition of the pounds and inches will help to compensate. Dave Blomber, Marty Benson, and Jim Collier—standing at 5' 2", shoeless, will start up front in the season's opener with Blue Island here in Tinley Park on Monday, Nov. 24. Dick Virtue and Roy Fowler, both over five feet, will be positioned at the guards.

What about other teams? Central's lightweight coach, Spike with less enthusiasm about such teams as Steger and Flossmoor. "The Steger lost every game last year — they will be great for their entire team returns," commented Kostecki. "Flossmoor is strong with most of its men returning again this season."

Homewood's coach has been commenting on the strength of his team. "Blue Island and West Harvey are always good teams," finished Kostecki. So the Central lightweights have much to work toward; the opposition will definitely be better than last year. Coach Kostecki, concluded, "We will give them all a real game. We have a bigger team, one of the biggest I've ever coached; team spirit and cooperation has been the encouraging factor in practice; however, remember, I'm still building. If the boys yell—look out!"

Ken Webster, coach of the heavyweight squad was far less optimistic about the chances of his team. Last year they were unable to win one league effort, finishing with a 0-10 figure.

But Webster gave the same report as Kostecki. "We will have more height and weight. I have three men taller than my tallest man of last year." Yes, sir, if physical increase does it—the teams will be bigger winners this year!

All isn't black, Webster pointed out. "Frank Carlson, guard, could become one of the best performers in the heavyweight league this year. John Balshizer returns to pair with Carlson." The Central heavies will be strong in the back court for they have experience and talent in that area.

Up front—center, forwards; Ken, must hold a new unit from Ron Holt, Bob Suhs, Jim Elliott and Rich Behrens (seventh grader and 5' 10" tall).

Webster suggested, "Our team will be strong this year. I haven't seen the rest of the league and so I don't know what they have. We are expecting to post a better mark for this season."

"Not in excuse," continued Webster. "This is an extremely tough league. Players who come from the winless teams of Central go on to star with their high school teams. Last year four of the five Bremen starters were from Tinley Park. One reason for this—Tinley Central is not half as large as any other of the competing schools."

The boys are divided into two groups by state law. The division comes in consideration of weight, age, and height. Points are attached to the aforementioned categories and a fellow is either a lightweight or a heavyweight on that basis.

Three evening games will be played this season. Last year just one evening game was played.

Sandburg to Place Basketball Hopes on Young Team This Year

"Our team will, no doubt, record our worst conference record this basketball season," stated Coach Bill Adams. Adams has moved up from the frosh-soph post to the varsity for the 1958-59 effort.

Sandburg has finished in second place about every year that it has been in the SW Suburban conference. So, third or fourth place would not seem too bad for a season; would it?

Adams is looking ahead to 1959-60 when he feels that his team will come of age. "Our basic unit will be the frosh-soph squad of last year. That means — we will have three juniors and two sophomores carrying the load this year," he added.

This frosh-soph team of last year lost its first three games by wide margins and then developed real class. If they run to form, Sandburg might have a real contender in a few weeks.

"Last year we went with all seniors. We do not have a player who played varsity ball last season. That is why I say — we will be hurting this entire season," lamented Adams.

Sandburg might field the smallest team in the circuit this winter. Don Arnold, 6'1"—tallest man on the team, will start at center. Two seniors, Phil Yurtis and Bob Snider, both at 6', will probably start at forward. However, Paul Bush and Daune Erickson, both sophomores, will probably see an equal amount of action. These fellows are 5'11". Juniors Jerry McBride, 5'9", and Dick Barry, 5'9", will bring the ball up for Sandburg. Last season's starting lineup averaged nearly 6'2"—this year it will be well under 6'.

Blue Island will be the opener on Wednesday, Nov. 26, at Blue Island.

Lincoln-Way Cage Coach Sings Blues; Sees Bleak Season Ahead

Lincoln-Way coach Joe Kruzick, another newcomer to the SW Suburban League staff, looks for a bleak winter at the New Lenox school. "Last year we had a mark of 7 won and 14 lost—returning from that team is Lee Yunker. So, you can note, that we might do well to win a couple of games.

Actually, I'll be able to give you our final results within two weeks. We are hoping to receive much help from three sophomores," that Kruzick.

"Height is of real concern. We have just one man over six-foot, and that by two inches, in the five which will probably start on Friday night against Plainfield. Of course, Bremen did well without height last year, but their small men were excellent. We aren't blessed with that talent in our small men," explained the coach.

Kruzick plans to start Lee Yunker at center in Plainfield on Friday. The other four men in the starting lineup will be juniors. Larry Iwema, highly regarded by the Lincolnway mentor, and Tom Peterson will position at forward. Jerry Haehnlein and Jim McGuire will be stationed at the guard position. Haehnlein is only 5' 7".

Coach Kruzick was high in his praise of his coming sophomore crop. "They'll give us a team in a couple of years," he promised. Bob Lichtenwaller and Skip Kruzick, coach's son, are both near the 6' mark. Duane Warning is almost 6' 3". "These boys have height and should develop winning class within another year," was his comment.

"Rich is the team to beat this season. I can't note any team in the conference giving them much trouble," finished Kruzick. Rich's entire five returns.

Lincoln-Way's first home game is Wednesday evening, Nov. 26 with Peotone. First league game for the Knights is with Bremen High school on Dec. 5 at New Lenox.

MAKING PROGRESS on beach at New Lenox Sportsmen's Recreation club site. When the dirt and rock is removed down to the water line then those in charge of the project will move over to the right (but it doesn't show in this picture) where there is a huge lot of sand and begin substituting that for the soil and thus provide the New Lenox group with a sand beach. This recreation spot is approximately two miles south of Wilmington on U. S. 66A, in the strip mine area. The New Lenox club is happy with its site because the water here deepens gradually.

New Lenox Sportsmen Start Work On Beach at Recreation Site

The New Lenox Sportsmen's Recreation club has started excavation for the development of a beach on their property, which is located south of Wilmington. It is reported by a spokesman for the club that when completed, the beach will be one of the largest and finest in the county, having over five hundred feet of sandy shoreline with plenty of shallow water for the youngsters.

Bids are being received on materials for the bath house and it is hopeful that construction will be completed in time for the opening of the beach next season, according to the spokesman. Developments in other parts of the area are being progressed as rapidly as possible. The wooded section, known as "The Oak Grove," is being cleared for additional picnic sites. The landscaping committee has made an initial purchase of trees, shrubs and has plans underway for future development of sections of the grounds for trapshooting, a pistol range, archery, tennis, badminton and horseshoes. Fishing, while reported to be good, is expected to improve under a fish management program set up with the guidance of the Illinois department of conservation. The spokesman stated that while the membership is limited, applications are still being accepted. Application forms or information can be obtained by addressing the New Lenox Sportsmen's Recreation club, P.O. Box 395, New Lenox.

Missing Auto Not Stolen -- Just Mixed With Twin

A report of a stolen auto was quickly cleared up by the Tinley Park police department when Mrs. M. J. Schultz of 5525 W. 171st st., complained her car had been taken from the Jewel Food parking lot. Investigating the report, Officer Pete Seoley found that an auto of identical description to Mrs. Schultz's car, parked in the lot, belonged to Julius Osborne of 169th and Oak Park ave. Osborne, thinking he was in his own car had driven the Schultz auto to his home. Even the keys were identical. The cars were exchanged and every one was happy.

Motorcycle Driver Arrested on Six Traffic Charges

A Tinley Park youth, who allegedly drove a motorcycle on the wrong side of the street at excessive speed last Wednesday, was issued a record number of tickets for one arrest — six, and released on bond of $100.

Harry Horman, of 181st and Ridgeland ave., was curbed by Harold Moore, police chief, when he cut in front of Moore's auto after passing him on the wrong side of the street, at 173rd pl. and Oak Park ave., the report states. The charges included speeding, driving too fast for conditions, illegal passing, driving in wrong lane, cutting in front of traffic, and reckless driving.

Police To Sponsor Dance in Tinley Ballroom Saturday

For a night of fun and relaxation, join your friends and neighbors and dance to the music of Jimmy Day's orchestra. During the evening 25 turkeys will be awarded. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

Lions Collect $180 On Cracker Jack Day

A gala evening is being planned on Dec. 6, when Lionesses will treat husbands to dinner and dancing at the Navajo Country club.

Choirs Invited To Participate In the "Messiah"

Members of all church choirs in the community and other interested individuals are invited to participate in the annual presentation of the "Messiah". It has been announced by Mrs. Naomi Larsen, chairman of the Fine Arts Division of Olivet Nazarene college.

Rehearsals are being held at 3 p.m. each Sunday in the college church and participants should report there at that time.

The "Messiah" will be presented in College church Friday, Dec. 12 and Sunday, Dec. 14.

Goal of $100,000 Set by Alumni Association Toward Nesbitt Hall

The board of directors of Olivet Nazarene College Alumni Association have set a goal of $100,000 to be raised by Dec. 31, 1960, to apply on the erection of Nesbitt hall, a 150 bed women's residence hall scheduled for erection in the spring of 1959.

Fred O. Chaffant, Farmington, Mich., Alumni president, in announcing the decision, revealed advanced pledges and gifts totalling $14,100. The 14-member board of directors laid plans for an intensive campaign to contact each of the 4500 members of the Alumni Association. Five members of the Association are expected to give $1,000 per year, 10 to give $500 per year, and 20 to give $250 per year. For the general fund drive the board adopted the slogan "Be one of 1000 to give 100".

In former years the Alumni Association has worked on special annual projects including building a green house, buying equipment for the chemistry laboratory, equipping college offices and others. This is the Alumni Association's first long term program with a goal of contributing to the colleges' capital assets.

Under the leadership of J. Harlan Milby, a Springfield business man, Olivet Nazarene college is in a 10 year, $3,000,000 campaign for funds to erect 5 new buildings, including two residence halls, a science building, a chapel-line arts building and a student union building.

Petitions for formation of a new political party or parties, certificates of nomination, nomination papers and statements of candidacy of persons seeking to enter the Dec. 6 election must be filed with County Judge Otto Kerner by Nov. 21.

What does modern electric heating have to offer the new home buyer?

If you are buying or building a new home, these facts will explain why the most luxurious heat of all is well worth a few extra dollars a month

Q. Is electric heating clean?

A. It's just as clean as electric light! You see, it uses no fuel—there's nothing to burn, no open flames. And with nothing burning, there's no smoke or soot to create dirt.

Q. Does it make any noise?

A. Radiant Electric Heating is absolutely silent. There are no moving parts, nothing running. No furnace noise.

Q. How about comfort control?

A. Radiant Electric Heating doesn't compromise on comfort. Separate thermostats in each room let you choose the exact degree of heat you need. You can keep the bathroom at 80°, while the living room is 72°, and the bedrooms are set for perfect sleeping comfort at an even 65°.

Q. Is electric heating complicated to operate?

A. It's as easy as tuning your radio. All you do is set the thermostats to the temperature you want. Radiant Electric Heating does the rest, automatically.

Q. How does it feel?

A. It's a deep-down penetrating warmth that feels just like the sun! You see, Radiant Electric Heating warms objects in the room directly.

Q. What does it look like?

A. Radiant Electric Heating is available in various forms. It can be a compact baseboard installed along the base of exterior walls and painted to match the room. It can be embedded in the floor or ceiling (only the wall thermostat is visible). Or it can consist of radiant glass panels, installed in the walls.

Q. How much do I pay for a Radiant Electric Heating System?

A. In the majority of cases, a Radiant Electric Heating system will cost less to install than conventional flame-type systems. Of course, insulation and storm doors and windows are a necessary part of any Electrically Heated Home (Commonwealth Edison does not recommend electric heating for a home without them). But you need no chimney, no hot water pipes or radiators, no furnace, no fuel storage space. And Radiant Electric Heating takes no usable floor space.

Q. How about upkeep?

A. With modern Radiant Electric Heating there are no moving parts, nothing to get out of order. Nothing to adjust, nothing to clean. As a result, the upkeep is just a fraction of what you'd pay to keep a conventional heating system in operation.

Q. Want air conditioning, too?

A. If you want both electric heating and air conditioning in one unit, you'll want the wonderful new Heat Pump that both heats and cools electrically. With this all-electric air conditioning system, the air in your home is warmed or cooled to the exact temperature you select, filtered clean, gently and quietly circulated to every room. The Heat Pump is a compact unit that can be installed in the basement or crawl space to deliver fully conditioned air through ductwork to every room in your home. And just as with Radiant Electric Heating, there are no flames, no fumes—nothing to disturb your absolute peace of mind!

Q. What happens if the electricity goes off?

A. If the electricity ever did go off, the electric heating would go off, too. But so would every other kind of automatic heating. Even fuel-type heating systems depend upon electricity for operation.

Q. Is it safe?

A. It's fully as safe as the electric light you're reading this by. With electric heating in your home you'll enjoy a wonderful new peace of mind. There's nothing to escape, drip, leak, smell or boil over.

Q. What's this I hear about a special electric heating rate?

A. Recently, Commonwealth Edison and Public Service Company put into effect a new electric heating rate that cuts the cost of heating with electricity about 30%. This new rate, together with new developments in heating equipment and better standards of home insulation, puts electric heating well within the means of most new home buyers. As a result, new electric heating has been specified for more than 900 homes and apartments.

Q. How much does it cost to operate?

A. Operating costs of electric heating obviously will vary according to the size and type of home and family living habits. Commonwealth Edison and Public Service Company, or your home builder, will be glad to provide electric heating estimates based on the specifications of the home you plan to build or buy.

Q. Where can I learn more about electric heating?
A. You can get more information by phoning your nearest Commonwealth Edison or Public Service Company office. Or you can see new Electrically Heated Homes now being featured by progressive builders in the Chicago area.

Remember, electric heating is available now! There's no waiting list and no permits are needed! So if a new home is on the horizon for you, look into the modern miracle of electric heating. After all, doesn't it make sense to get the advanced heating in your new home that you've always hoped would be available someday?

Home Builders to Test Blue Laws In High Court

(CNS) — Pacesetter Homes, Inc. is expected to file its appeal to the Illinois Supreme court a ruling declaring South Holland's Blue Law banning display and sale of homes in the village on Sunday constitutional. The company planned to act this week.

A transcript of Circuit court proceeding—to be filed in the appeal—was marked "true and correct" by Judge Ezra Clark.

Judge Clark allowed the appeal direct to the state supreme court, saying that in his opinion the public interest required such an appeal.

His decision declaring the Blue Law constitutional is the second legal defeat for Pacesetter and its president, Harry Quinn.

In 1956, the year South Holland enacted its Sunday closing law, Circuit Judge John T. Dempsey rejected Quinn's motion for a temporary injunction to bar the village from preventing the firm from showing homes there on Sunday. Quinn later dropped his lawsuit.

The company launched its second attack on the law last Fall, several months after Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher knocked out the ordinance only as it applied to three specific businessmen who operate a motel, a restaurant, and a gas station in South Holland.

Quinn's attorney, Edward T. Havey, represented the three businessmen who are fighting the village's appeal of the Fisher ruling before the Illinois Appellate court.

Judge Clark said selling homes on Sunday isn't necessary to meet emergency needs. However, Judge Fisher held that the sale of food, medicine, and the availability of lodging are necessities of life and must be available to meet emergency needs on Sunday.

Pacesetter Homes also sought to have itself exempted from the law in the event the court upheld the ordinance as it applies to builders. Judge Clark rejected this plea.

Kitchen Sink Has No Place In Photography

Plumbing and photography don't mix.

A warning to the amateur photographer not to use the kitchen sink as a place for developing films and prints is offered by the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau.

The various solutions used for developing are exceedingly harmful to the enameled surface of the sink, the Bureau points out. A developing solution will eat away the enamel. This type of damage once done can never be corrected. In other words, there is no way of patching the damaged enamel.

The Bureau also sounds a warning against other practices that are harmful to the surface of enameled cast iron sinks.

This surface will stand much wear but it will not stand abuse such as the careless hitting of the surface with heavy skillets, pots, and pans.

Care in the use of detergents is also necessary. Of the many types of detergents which are being used, a few are known to contain chemicals which are harmful to enamel-ware.

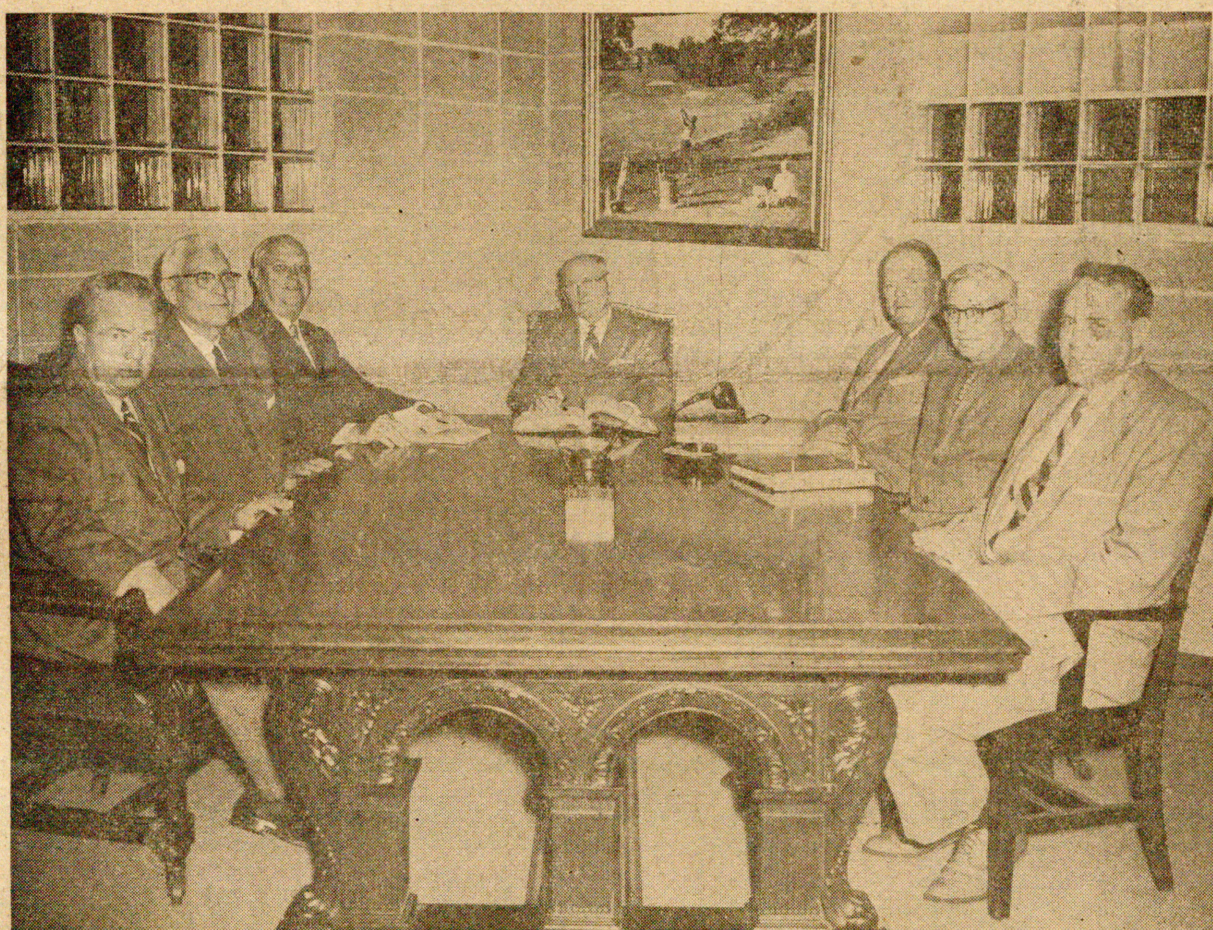

If a rubber drainboard mat is used to protect the surface of the enamel against abrasion, it should be cleaned and dried after each use. Otherwise it may retain harmful liquids in contact with the sink for a long period with consequent possibility of damage.

It is highly advisable to rinse the sink and drainboards after each use. This is especially important if juices from fruits, vegetables, tea, or coffee have been in contact with the sink.

The Gold Rush wasn't the only reason people flocked to California in the 19th century. TB sufferers migrated there in hopes the climate would cure. Today's TB patients are treated in hospitals near their homes.

ORLAND PARK UNIT

The Orland Park grade school had its annual parent visiting day Monday, Nov. 10. Each year this is done during American Educational Week.

The following PTA mothers cared for pre-school children while parents visited the rooms:

Mrs. Victor Scheber, Mrs. Hans Bader, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. Gordon Bendix, and Mrs. Charles A. McKinley.

The day was most beneficial to parents and students. The number of parents that visited was gratifying to the school Superintendent, Norbert Jerling, who pointed out the benefits of watching the students in a normal classroom situation.

Farm Land Values in Five North Central States Make Upward Turn

(CNS) Farm land values in the five north central states have turned upward this summer and fall, after stabilizing last winter and spring, according to the bulletin of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. The average value per acre of "good" farm land in October varied from $490 in Central Illinois and $438 in the Chicago environs, to a low of $94 in the top half of lower Michigan and $196 along the east shore of Lake Michigan. Eastern Wisconsin averaged $233 and northern Indiana $299 with a top of $371 in north central Iowa, and $393 in central Indiana.

A safe driver, says the Motor club, always will reduce his speed whenever approaching a leaf fire at the curb. Wind conditions often can obstruct your overall view of the area. Don't blindly assume the road ahead is clear. Instead, anticipate the possibility of the smoke obscuring someone in the road. Play it safe—when you see the autumn leave smoke signal, slow down.

"A welfare state is one run for the benefit of everyone but the taxpayer."—Imogene Fey.

The lull in the price rise last winter and spring can be ascribed "largely to the declines in business activity and employment, the decline in values of alternative investments such as common stocks, and in some areas to adverse crop prospects", the report pointed out.

However, total farm net income showed an increase of 13 per cent over 1957 levels during the first three quarters of 1958, after three years of "almost stable farm income", it adds.

"A majority of bankers in Iowa and northern Illinois expect the upward trend in prices of farm real estate to continue. In these areas of the Seventh district, good crops and high cash receipts from livestock marketings have boosted farm incomes the most.

"In other areas, most bankers report land values relatively stable. But even in these areas a sizable proportion ex-

Thank you - - for putting up with our dust and noise

We've just completed the excavation work on a major telephone project—the addition of underground cables to expand telephone service for New Lenox and nearby areas.

With air hammers and digging machines going full blast for about six weeks, naturally there has been noise, dirt and traffic interruption. But the work was necessary, so that New Lenox's telephone system could keep up with the growth of our community.

We're glad to report that the excavation work is now completed. Thank you for your patience and co-operation, and we're sorry for whatever inconvenience we may have caused.

MAURICE P. ANGLAND
Many things are responsible for the investment position and earnings changes for railroad as an industry. The early history of the building of railroads is filled with thrilling tales which have been the background of action novels. Hollywood has used some phase of railroad building in the west as next to "boy meets girl" in successful formats. Lewistown, Montana has its Burke hotel and in the lobby a large painting depicting an ancestor of the hotel's builder in action. He was known as "Pick Handle" Burke. His nick name indicates his instrument of persuasion for his gangs, some of whom may have wanted to quit because the payroll was late, the food bad, or a better job available. Each district in the west has its legendary heroes of railroad building and many of their methods are not popular or tolerable today.

However, the west would never have been opened to settlers as fast as it was without those men whom we think of today as romantic pirates.

As Goldsmith said, "Time makes ancient good uncouth." This romantic aura covered a multitude of sins against good management as measured by comparison with other industries.

For many years the top management came up thru the ranks and switched from one road to another as to top management strata. The management seldom had any real investment in the road. The fact that management had no formal engineering training was made an asset rather than a liability by excellent press agent work.

Management and the heads of the Big Four rail unions knew each other very well on a personal basis. Strikes of these unions were largely "shadow boxing" for the record and, strikes settled with engineers, firemen, etc. getting their demands easily. Feather bedding by payment of labor costs on basis of conditions existent years ago, is prevalent.

Rail equipment business went to friends rather than based on engineering excellence, etc. The "Diamond Jim" Bradys made fortunes. The president of a Chicago rail equipment firm lived in and around New York rather than Chicago. Company's main customer was the Southern Railway. The Southern Railway president and the rail equipment executive were neighbors on farms in Connecticut. Death of this rail president brought change of Southern Railroad main office out of New York and equipment business to friends of the new management.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology started a course in

New Fare Rate In Effect on I. C.

(CNS)—A 20 per cent commuter fare hike, affecting about 45,000 daily riders, was granted the Illinois Central railroad Wednesday of last week by the Illinois commerce commission in Chicago. The increase went into effect Friday.

Railroad officials said that weekly and monthly commutation tickets will remain good at the old rate until they expire. However, ten and 25-day tickets, good for one year, will expire when the increase becomes effective. They may be turned in for refunds.

Railroad management, Pennsylvania R. R. started sending promising men for this course as did other roads. After World War I, the Louisville & Nashville was in trouble financially. Directors were forced to select a business trained man rather than an old time railroad. This was violently opposed by other rail executives. The very basis of their tight little fraternity was threatened. He was highly successful in operations and brought business management to the road. The Burlington is an example of comparatively excellent management.

Automation is now being forced on the roads faster than the public realizes due to labor costs which have been about 60 per cent of each dollar of revenue.

Mechanization of road gangs, office work, automatic signal controls, mechanization of freight car distribution in yards, and more scientific selection of equipment, is changing railroads position in investment field.

The roads are being forced by labor costs and other factors, to operate efficiently on a basis comparable to other industries and without the romance of old. It is estimated that savings thru efficiency and automation save about $5,000 per employee cut. This is an annual saving!

These savings can be staggering and are permanent. Less labor will handle more freight easier. Any unavoidable cost is in the nature of a tax and this situation in railroad efficiency has an interest to the public as well as the investor.

At the time of this report 107 new stores were under lease for future opening.

Traffic is bound to be heavy following that big November football game, cautions the Motor club, so remember to take it easy on the way home. Don't let the results of the game affect your safe driving. Even more important than the score of the game is the safety score you make on the way home.

Sandburg Music Students To Sell Candy Bars Sunday

"Operation Candy Bars" will take place Sunday, Nov. 23, during the afternoon, when the Carl Sandburg high school Music Parent's Association and the music department will unite to sell candy bars. Parents will be driving the students who will be going from house to house, in this huge operation.

Mrs. Leslie Wiles is chairman, and Mrs. James Jankun, co-chairman, of the annual event to raise funds to be used by the music department of the Carl Sandburg high school. Refreshments will be served at the school after the operation.

FARM NEWS

For Cook County by
W. F. Whiteside

Assistant farm adviser

The 4-H Achievement Program this month marked the official end of the 1957-58 4-H Club year. 4-H members, leaders and parents were recognized and complimented for their contribution to a successful 4-H year.

One of the first efforts made in connection with the 1958-59 4-H year is Program Planning. This has been going on in individual clubs and at the county level for some time. As soon as the dates of major events have been established, everyone will be notified.

The Park Forest 4-H Council, at their last meeting, got involved in Program planning for the coming year. The Council, with its chairman Ty Thompson, is setting up a program which should be of great interest to all 4-H'ers in the village of Park Forest. Mary Ann Stephens, Park Forest 4-H Adviser, reported on a successful Club Officers' Training program, as well as the formation of a photography club and a club set up around the project of dog care and training. At the same meeting Mrs. Robert West was elected vice-president of the council.

Park Forest youngsters received recognition for their work in entomology, with John Thompson and Bill Andrews receiving project medals. Charles Ludmer received a medal for his electricity project. Tom Eisner, County Public Speaking contest winner also is a Park Forest 4-H'er.

We are happy to announce the selection of C. L. Mast, Jr., as the winner of the Alumni Recognition award for the state of Illinois. Another fine accomplishment is the selection of Leslie Yunker of Orland Park as a member of the exclusive 4-H Key Club.

Another outstanding Cook County 4-H'er has just returned to the shores of the United States, after a six-month visit in farm homes in Austria. Her visit to Austria was made possible thru the International Farm Youth Exchange program, sponsored by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Corn Crop Most Profitable One In Central Illinois

Corn is the most profitable crop for central Illinois farmers. That's what is shown by the 1957 cost records of 36 farmers cooperating with University of Illinois agricultural economics research workers.

A. G. Mueller, in charge of detailed cost research, reported this week that in 1957 corn raised on medium-grade land in central Illinois returned $24.86 an acre for management and profits. This amount was left after these farmers paid all production costs. These costs included land charge and taxes, labor, power and machinery, fertilizers, seed and crop expenses, buildings, farm overhead expenses, interest on stored corn and charge for manure. Corn yielded about 79 bushels an acre and was valued at $1.10 a bushel.

Soybeans, running a close second, returned $23.78 an acre. The beans averaged 33 bushels an acre and were valued at $2.15 a bushel.

Oats showed a loss of $20.87 an acre. Yields averaged only 25 bushels in 1957 and were valued at 61 cents a bushel. To break even, oats would have needed to yield 59 bushels an acre.

Hay and pasture lost $10.79 an acre. The forage used included 89 days of pasture and .9 ton of hay. No allowance was made for unused forage, fertility ture, and the Illinois 4-H Foundation. Miss Nichols who lives near Elgin, will be available for speaking engagements in the very near future. She should have a very interesting story to tell.

Home owners, keep pouring the water on those evergreens around your home. You can do this right up until the ground freezes. This will help to prevent browning of the ends of the branches during the winter.

The first few nippy days of autumn seem to ignite that latent spark among the ever increasing army of hunters and sportsmen. While you are bringing out of hiding the shot-guns and rifles, please think over the rules of safe gun handling. Be sure your firearm is in safe condition. Look beyond your target. Above all, do not mix gun powder and alcohol. Enjoy a safe and pleasure-filled season of hunting.

Farmers who raised corn last year are reminded once again to take advantage of the opportunity to vote in the Corn Referendum to be held Nov. 25. The polls will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Polling places will be announced by the County ASC Committee.

This referendum will determine the corn program for 1959. Two propositions will be on the ballot. Proposition one, favors discontinuance of corn acreage allotments. Price of corn would be supported at 90% of the average price received by farmers for the three preceding years. The support level would not drop below 65% parity. Proposition number two, favors the retention of corn acreage allotments. In essence this will be the present program. To get a support price on your corn, you will be required to stay within your allotment. The support price would be at a level from 75% to 90% of parity, depending on the supply. This is a democracy! It is your right and privilege to vote. Be sure and do so.

City Council Adopts Vehicle Tax Ordinance; Effective January 1

By CHLOE WHITE
Sycamore 8-6620

Beginning Jan. 1 motor vehicle owners in Country Club Hills will pay a city vehicle tax.

The council, at its regular meeting last Thursday night in the Model Home, adopted an ordinance fixing the scale for the vehicle tax. Proceeds will be used for street maintenance.

Motorcycles and motorbikes, $3; passenger cars, $4; trucks up to 1½ tons, $4; trucks over 1½ tons, $8.

An ordinance governing dogs also was passed. It prohibits dogs running loose and provides for a license fee of $2 payable by May 1. Before a license will be issued the owner of the dog must show proof that the animal has received an inoculation against rabies.

An amendment to the subdivision ordinance was adopted which provides fines ranging from $25 to $200 for each day of violation.

Franchises were granted to the Commonwealth Edison Co. (50 years); Northern Illinois Gas Co. (25 years) and Illinois Bell Telephone (25 years).

The Plat for Unit 6 in the J. E. Merriam Co. development program was approved by the council after a resolution was passed specifying five other lots, in addition to the area identified as Area B, be set aside for public use.

The council also voted to join the Illinois Municipal League and the South Cook County Association of Municipalities.

It was reported that an agreement has been reached with the township under which that body will maintain the streets and take care of snow removal until spring. The township has the tax money that was paid in for this purpose.

Leslie Harris has been appointed deputy carpentry inspector and Mayor Landenberg will be the council representative.

representative for the Teen club organization.

The next regular meeting of the council will be held Nov. 24.

Planning and Zoning Commis.
The bylaws of the planning and zoning commission of the city of Country Club Hills have been adopted.

It is the intent of the commission to encourage public participation at commission meetings and as a result visitors will have an opportunity to be heard. But in order to address the commission, the person who wishes to speak must give his name to Beverly Kindele, the secretary, and the subject or subjects to be discussed.

Special meetings are open only to the members of the commission and guests invited by members of the commission.

The regular meeting of the commission will be held the third Thursday of each month in a model home. They will begin at 8 o'clock.

To become more familiar with their duties the commission has visited Park Forest, Hazel Crest, Flossmoor and Mokena.

Work has been completed on the commercial areas. The areas zoned as commercial are five acres, southeast corner of 167th and Crawford avenue; 40 acres, southwest corner of 175th and Crawford; five acres southwest corner 183rd and Crawford; five acres, northwest corner Crawford and Flossmoor road; five acres, northeast corner of Flossmoor Road and Cicero; two acres, Henke farm, approximately at 178th and Cicero. This zoning is subject to the approval of the city council.

The chairman of the commission is Donald Schwenk; vice chairman, George Whittington secretary, Beverly Kindele; standing committee chairmen are: Plats, William Hastings; zoning, Charles Soukup; public relations, Delores Kuznicki; new business, Jack Sutton, special committee of maps and statistics, Wm. Marquardsen.

Homeowner's Association

The meeting of the Homeowner's Association was held Nov. 11 in the Thomas Lane school.

There has been quite a turn over in personnel and several new members were announced. Alice MacKenzie will replace James Quinlan who has resigned. Al Katz will replace Don Merriam who has resigned. James Nally will replace Bill Cannon who has resigned and Fred Wedderspoon will replace Ray Winters who has moved from the area.

The publicity committee announced plans for a monthly news letter which is to be mailed to all residents and which will contain news of the actions of the Association as well as civic and social events. It is planned to distribute this about two weeks after the monthly meeting.

James Lanigan reported that upon investigation it was found that the structure that had been offered by the Merriam company as a possible meeting place was found to be unsuitable.

Dale Koehn, a local resident, has been hired to maintain Homeowner's Park as well as maintaining the entrances by cutting the grass and weeding.

A committee was formed to work out further and final details for acquisition or rejection of the remodeled structure on Cicero avenue and this committee is to report to the board of directors at the earliest time but not later than the next meeting.

The road, ditch and drainage committee announced that due to Halloween vandalism, the mercury vapor light at 181st and Cicero will have to be replaced. Because parts of this light are custom made it will cost $66 to repair the damage.

It was the feeling of the Association that the flasher light should be replaced at the intersection of 183rd and Cicero as a safety measure, and plans were made to contact Alderman Ray Hoewing and offer assistance in this and also in obtaining stop signs for 183rd street exits.

ASC Head Explains Regulations Covering Corn Referendum Voting

General regulations covering voting in the corn referendum to be held on Nov. 25 were explained today by Roy Smith, chairman of the Will county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee.

Any person who was entitled to share in the proceeds of the 1958 corn crop in the commercial corn area as an owner-operator, cash tenant, standing-rent or fixed-rent tenant, landlord of a share tenant, share tenant, or share cropper will be eligible to vote, chairman Smith pointed out.

Also eligible to vote are:

- (1) any operator or landlord of a farm which had a 1958 corn allotment even tho corn was not planted;
- (2) any person who planted corn in the 1958 commercial corn area but did not harvest it; or
- (3) any person who placed corn land in the 1958 soil bank.

Chairman Smith listed the following other voting regulations:

Each eligible person will be entitled to only one vote regardless of the number of farms in which he has an interest or whether the farms are in separate communities, counties, or states.

Individual members of a qualified partnership will be eligible to vote, but the partnership as such will not have a vote. However, a person who is interested in an organization, such as a corporation which is entitled to a vote, also may vote as an individual if he can qualify by reason of his separate farming operations.

Voting by proxy—having someone else cast your ballot—will not be permitted, but persons who cannot be present on the day of the referendum may vote absentee ballots by mail.

Chairman Smith said that persons who have questions about their eligibility or how to take part in the referendum will be welcome at the Will county ASC office.
